The Administrative Staff

W. W. Brock, Jr., Principal

Administrative Staff Realized New Goals While Directing School Life

Hard work and dedication to Thomas Jefferson High School characterized our principal throughout the year. In addition to his usual duties, Mr. Brock gained the task of supervising the school evaluation. He still found time, however, to listen to problems of students and teachers. Besides working for improved classroom facilities, he showed a deep interest in extracurricular activities such as sporting events and student productions.

Robert F. Van Cleef, Assistant Principal

In addition to their normal duties as assistant principals, Mr. Norment and Mr. Van Cleef advised students with attendance problems. Mr. Norment worked closely with Freshmen and Seniors; Mr. Van Cleef did likewise for the Juniors and Sophomores.

Aside from scholastic duties, Mr. Norment served as sponsor of The Key Club and supported the efforts of its members. He also attended the Parent-Teachers Association Convention in Roanoke, Virginia.

Mr. Van Cleef was honored this year when he was elected President of the Richmond Education Association. He continued to sponsor The Honor Council and supported its drive to uphold the Honor System. In these ways, he and Mr. Norment displayed their usual dedication to the school.

H. I. Willet, Superintendent
Richmond Public Schools

Striving for the best education of Richmond's youth characterized Dr. H. I. Willett, our superintendent. One of his dreams came true as the Richmond Vocational-Technical School joined Thomas Jefferson in 1968. The "Evaluation" was another step toward the high goal set by Dr. Willett for the Richmond Public Schools.

Interest Within Student Body Was Main Goal of Guidance Counselors

Activities of the Guidance Department were many and varied. As usual, this year's calendar included College Night. On November 15, area students questioned representatives from one hundred colleges and universities all over the country concerning opportunities and responsibilities of acquiring a college education. Consequently, many of these students chose a college or course of study or both.

The Guidance Department also aided graduating students by furnishing records of high school performance to employers or college admission boards, by providing a job placement service, and by maintaining a post-graduate file. The latter helped to indicate weaknesses in the high school curriculum which could be corrected.

The ever increasing number of students necessitated certain changes in the operations of the office. Two new counselors, Mrs. Howell and Mrs. Brumble, joined the staff; two new courses, drama and girls' gymnastics, were added to the curriculum; and vocational files, college annuals, and catalogs were made available to the entire student body. The Guidance Department exhibited, again, its deep concern for the students.

Department Heads Co-operated to Build Smooth Program in The Arts

Working with an extended program in art and music, the Humanities Department was able to offer a more complete program to TeeJay students. In the Humanities Assembly, a psychedelic presentation was made to students, and the same performance was later given to teachers at the V. E. A. convention. Mrs. Tankard, department sponsor, hoped that the show had meaning for its viewers.

Through collaboration with the English Literary Staff, Mrs. Baldock endeavored to make students more aware of art in all its forms. She received recognition as the National Chairman of the International School Art Program, and her experience was beneficial to TeeJay students.

Music Department members found both pleasure and practical experience in their public presentations. More than a school group, they performed for neighborhood organizations and participated in the annual operetta under the direction of Miss Betty Davis. As in previous years, selected chorus members represented TeeJay in the All-Region and All-State choruses.

Mrs. Grigg was the able instructor of the newly-formed drama class. She taught basic background of the theater and used student participation in plays as a teaching aid.

Billy Griffin, a student in Mrs. Comley's sight-saving class, uses a large-type typewriter.

Faculty Advisors Provided Spark for Math Program and Students

The main goal of the Math Department was to further the understanding of Mathematical principles. To this end, a Math Club was organized with Mr. Huber as sponsor. His experience as teacher of computer programming at Virginia Polytechnic Institute sparked interest in such a course at TeeJay. While Mr. Lucien Hall was at the University of Virginia working on his doctorate, Mrs. Ida Wanderer filled in as department coordinator. She helped strengthen the math program to meet changes in Advanced Placement exams.

Science Centers Represented Jobs for Interested TeeJay Participants

Two new science teachers, Mr. Ian MacAlpine and Miss Sharon Mullen, provided new ideas for the Science Department. Sixteen students worked with industry scientists and represented TeeJay at the Virginia Junior Academy of Science. Many Seniors participated in the Westinghouse Talent Search; other students worked with the new Math-Science Center where Miss Virginia Ellett, A. P. Chemistry teacher, was a Science Education Specialist. An A. P. Biology class under Mrs. Crockett was planned for 1968-69.

Expansion of TeeJay Departments Stressed Communication and Arts

The English Department was strengthened by the addition of six new teachers. Other improvements included audio-visual aids in many classrooms. A new course in drama was offered by Mrs. Grigg, and drama students presented original plays. In addition, all English students had the chance to see Moliere's School for Wives presented professionally by the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts.

With growing emphasis on communication, TeeJay stressed foreign language study. New courses were offered, and new material was purchased to stimulate interest. Movies, tape recorders, and record players in creased the students' exposure to native pronounciation. Through travelogues, embassy tours, and speakers, language clubs broadened the students' interest.

Several changes occurred in the area of social studies. For the first time, art lectures were presented by members of the Junior League of Richmond to selected classes at TeeJay. These lectures concerned the art and architecture of ancient civilizations, the Middle Ages, and early America. Improvements were also made in economics, United States history, and government.

Courses Prepared Students for World of Competitive Employment

The Distributive Education Department provided instruction in marketing, merchandising, and management. Sponsored trips to stock yards and meat-packing plants produced concrete examples of principles learned in the classroom. The Department expanded its influence by sponsoring an employment clinic in October to help students obtain jobs during the Christmas season. During the annual DECA Week, our D.E. Club held a tea in honor of the faculty as an expression of thanks for what they had done. This period of national observance also served to publicize the purposes of the D.E. program as a whole.

Training the student and giving him on-the-job experience were the main objectives of Vocational Office Training. Possession of more knowledge of office work and machines placed V.O.T. students on a better footing in the competitive employment world. Students learned the proper way to apply for a job and then used their new-found knowledge to obtain employment in business offices as secretaries, clerk-typists, and bookkeepers. V.O.T. gained long-sought progress by placing three students in departments offering experience in the use of a variety of machines.

Swelnis Showed Versatility as Teacher, Coach, Pro-Ball Player

In 1963 Mr. Lloyd Swelnis graduated from the University of Western Michigan where he had played varsity football for three years. A chance to play in the Continental Football League and a teaching offer in Richmond brought him here to sign with the Rebels. Though new to the city and to TeeJay where he was scheduled to teach mechanical drawing, he soon earned the "bonus" of assistant varsity football coach. Thus, he encountered a busy first year in Richmond as teacher, coach, and professional football player.

This year Mr. Swelnis again had a tight schedule, but satisfaction outweighed inconvenience. Five mechanical drawing classes occupied normal school hours. At 3:10 he rushed to the field to coach the varsity backs. From there he proceeded to City Stadium to practice with the Richmond Road Runners. He thoroughly enjoyed the resulting fifteen-hour day. While playing with the Road Runners, Mr. Swelnis saw new and interesting places; through coaching and teaching, he gained many rewarding experiences.

Thomas Jefferson Scored Highly on the City-Wide Evaluation

To improve the existing educational system at Thomas Jefferson, the Richmond School Board appointed a committee of college professors and high school teachers to investigate the methods and material employed by teachers in their classrooms. This committee measured the success of the instructors both in meeting the required standards as expressed in Evaluative Criteria, a teachers' handbook, and in meeting their personal class objectives.

A professor of Education at the University of Virginia, Dr. Frank Lankford, accepted responsibility for this city-wide school evaluation. Under his supervision, Dr. Rufus Tonelson, Professor of Education at Old Dominion College, gathered material for his written report. Keeping the standards of the criteria in mind, Dr. Tonelson found that the programs offered TeeJay were outstanding; however, he discovered that, because of lack of classroom space, the subjects were not as varied as possible. TeeJay retained its high position in rank of academic achievement. Mr. Brock expressed his approval of the evaluation by saying that it was good to view the faults and assets of the present system.

More than a link between the student body and the school administration, the Senate was responsible through its numerous committees for coordinating school and club activities. The special fall "Bermeo's Blowout" honoring our AFS student was a product of Senate efforts as was the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance.

The Senate initiated a special community service project—a tutorial program for East End elementary students. After a period of orientation, three volunteers from TeeJay met with underprivileged students, aiding them in developing scholastic interests and bringing out undeveloped talents and skills. Those students who offered their services deemed their time and energy well-spent.

Swelnis's Homeroom Captured Door Decoration Contest

To encourage better parliamentary procedure in homeroom meetings, the House presents an assembly comparing the good and bad methods used.

The House of Representatives was a useful tool to each student at TeeJay. Through the Homeroom presidents, the representatives to the House, students brought issues before the lawmaking body. This year the president of the House was George Edmunds, Vice President of the S.P. Several standing committees were formed of House members. The Rules Committee enforced rules of attendance and conduct. The Calendar Committee, consisting of four volunteers each month, kept the calendar of events up to date.

Numerous projects were adopted this year. The Homecoming Door Decoration Contest was a great success. The winner was Mr. Swelnis's homeroom. The House also presented an assembly in skit form concerning problems in the homeroom. Major topics of discussion this year included fund raising for athletics and Senior exam exemptions.

Honor Council Stressed Truth for Character

The Honor Council endeavored to open wider channels of communications with the student body, knowing that most students understand the Council's purpose only casually. Early in the year, the Council presented Dick James, coach of the Richmond Mustangs, as a speaker. The former football star told of his personal experiences and his long struggle to make a professional team. At the same time, he impressed upon the students that they should uphold principles and be honest with themselves. After the assembly, the Honor Council distributed sheets listing offenses against the Code and the penalties they merited. As a constant reminder of the Council's goal, posters were sent to each homeroom. Spelling TRUTH, each was accompanied by a sermonette over the PA system. Articles in the Jeffersonian and assemblies kept students aware of their obligations.

Quill and Scroll Honored Outstanding Journalistic Ability

Under the leadership of Miss Alma Lowance, eight seniors carried on the activities of the Ellen Glasgow Chapter of Quill and Scroll. New members were inducted in the spring in a candlelight service. To be inducted, a student had to be a junior or a senior who had displayed outstanding journalistic ability on school publications, and be recommended by the staff advisor. The potential member also had to be approved by the international executive secretary.

Julia Wegman, Paul Hawthorne discuss induction ceremony.

Practicing for National Honor Society Induction are Betsy Smith, Carol Friedenberg, George Edmunds, and Gilbert Rothenberg.

National Honor Society Selected Forty-One Additional Members

Sponsored by Mrs. Josephine Baker, the National Honor Society revised its tutorial program. Any student desiring help could fill out a request form to obtain tutoring before, during, or after school. The program was very successful.

In mid-March ten Seniors, who had earned membership in the Society in 1967, participated in the suspense-filled induction ceremony. Thirty-three Seniors and eight outstanding Juniors were tapped. New members were the following:

SENIORS: Steve Aschmann, Clyde Roettger, Nancy Goldstein, W. D. Hasty, John Kennedy, Katherine Torrence, Michael Hock, Tom Lawrence, Linda Fox, Babette Peck, William Mohr, Robert Poindexter, Marc Shapiro, Mamie Woo, Chris Massad, Debbie Kay, Julie Mahler, Buddy Wheeler, John Kenyon, Elizabeth Reynolds, Art Thomas, Jeff Douglas, Ruth Rachal, David Brenner, Nelle Haag, Ann Cooley, Kenneth Klotz, Linda Fowler, Margaret Heindl, Paul Hawthorne, Sandra Morewitz, Susan Brummer, Kay Youngblood. JUNIORS: Catherine Stone, Deborah Greenberg, Robert Rolfe, John Ambrose, Penny Duvall, Lewis Held, Mike Vranian, Chris Howard.

During study hall Dale Wanderer tutors Robert Waldrop in English while Bob Goodman offers his advice.

National Honor Society members Jim York, Kathleen Roberts, and Susie Krug make plans for the tapping ceremony held on March 15.

Probably the best description of every aspect of this year's Monticello was "different." Composed of only three old members and eight new members, the Literary Staff worked under the supervision of a new and inexperienced sponsor, Miss Anne Sherwin. After learning how to plan the yearbook, the staff began the actual work.

One of the main differences was the organization of the book; the order of main sections was altered. Even the advertising section underwent a change, as more informal photographs were added. This change made the ads more interesting and created a closer relationship between the Business and Literary Staffs.

The book was given unity by a theme that reflected all the changes: "1968 Was Our Year." The free-form '68 was carried throughout the Monticello on division pages and was displayed on the cover. One glance at the lively binding assured the reader that something different lay within.

The Jeffersonian Dispensed News and Ideas on School Issues

The Jeffersonian, TeeJay's newspaper was published every two weeks and had a circulation of about seven hundred copies. Some fifty students from the Business and Literary Staffs combined their efforts to produce an informative paper. The Business Staff sold ads and subscriptions to meet expenses while the Literary Staff wrote the editorials, stories, and "beat notes."

Special features incorporated in this year's Jeffersonian were an eight-page Homecoming issue, a WLEE Top Ten List, a Student Government survey conducted in the area schools, and finally, a Will and Testament of the Senior Class.

Sylvia Zelkin, Jeff Douglas, Adrien Goldman, Claudia Kent, and Ann McCoy fold and staple papers for mailing.

Having received the high honor of the medalist certificate from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in 1967, the Declaration proved to be even better this year. TJ's literary-art magazine contained stories, short stories, essays, and poems supplied by TJ students. This year a special section of French poetry was contributed by the French Club and French National Honor Society.

Improvements in the quality and support of the Declaration included new multicolor pages with a better quality of printing which added to the magazine's attraction. Also, student boosters contributing fifty cents each were added to the usual patrons, contributors, and sponsors.

Key Club Gave Two New Flags to School

The Key Club, the Kiwanis-sponsored service organization consisting of boys interested in improving TeeJay, undertook many projects this year. Keeping in mind their top rating in the Capitol District, the group sponsored "Americanism Week." They scheduled an essay contest and presented an impressive assembly with Mayor Crowe as guest speaker. To crown the week's activities, the Club gave two new flags to the school—one American; the other, Virginian. Many boys continued as "Buddies" to lend a helping hand to the underprivileged children in the Oregon Hills area. Besides cleaning both cafeteria and school grounds, Key Clubbers sponsored the annual Victory Dance after Homecoming and sold tickets to basketball games.

To fulfill its ideal "to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian Character", Hi-Y II initiated a Work Day and other new projects. Their fall assembly featured Richmond's new city manager, Alan Kiepper, who spoke on problems of urban society. Plans for this year included an annual spring dance and the presentation of the Stan Navas award to a deserving student who excelled in academics and athletics despite a handicap.

Both Community and School Activities Occupied Hi-Y III

Hi-Y III contributed much to the community through donations and service. For mentally retarded children the club gave parties at Halloween and Christmas, a picnic in the spring, and an Easter egg hunt. Their donations went to the Peace Corps and the YMCA World Missions, but they also collected for the March of Dimes. Twice a month members visited their adopted grandfather.

Besides these and other community projects, the Hi-Y III Service Club excelled in its work for the school. A high jump pit was built for the track team, refreshments were given at the Orientation of new students, and coffee cups were put in the teachers' room. Members also successfully presented their fourth annual May Bop dance.

Y-Teens Club Promoted Discussion on Hippieland

With Miss Williamson in her first year as sponsor, Y Teens plans combined services for both the community and the school. At Christmas, the girls sang carols for the Confederate Home for the Aged. They raised funds by selling soft drinks at the Sadie Hawkins Dance. At the Northminster Baptist Church they encouraged a discussion on "hippieland" with flowers and foot imprints. The annual Candlelight Service was held on the Capitol steps.

Choir's Busy Year Is Highlighted by Performance at State Capitol

The 1967-68 A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Miss Betty Davis, excelled in their accomplishments in and out of school. Besides their traditional Orientation and Thanksgiving performances, the choir sang for Key Club's Americanism Week Assembly. An unforgettable highlight was their performance at the State Capitol during the governor's annual tree lighting ceremony. At school, the choir presented an inspiring Christmas Assembly and caroled in the halls. This year the group had the honor of singing for the State Music Conference. This program, correlating vocal, instrumental, and dance talents, was also presented for the Evaluation Assembly. The operetta, Frank Loesser's Where's Charley? was a thrilling success. The show, based on the Broadway comedy, Charley's Aunt, was directed by Mrs. Betty Grigg, speech and dramatics teacher.

Mrs. Grigg and Jerry Witt Helped in Reorganization of the Thespians

To increase participation and ability in the theater, the Thespian Society recommenced its TeeJay membership. Its sponsor, Mrs. Griggs, encouraged interest in theater history and practices. Potential members into this national organization were required to have a specific number of points gained through participation in dramatic productions. Under the leadership of President Jerry Witt, the renovation of the Thespians was successfully completed.

At each session the members tried to analyze and develop reasons to support or disprove a statement. A favorite subject was wire tapping. At the University of Virginia, five debaters were singled out on their individual ability. Mr. MacAlpine commented that this was an honor, considering that the members were working with very little faculty help.

Committee Announced Student Activities Daily

The Radio Committee worked every day to bring TeeJay students up-to-date on school events, to announce scheduled meetings, and to help restore lost articles to their rightful owners. The committee members often did extra work to make various announcements particularly effective. Their efforts were greatly appreciated by the Thomas Jefferson population.

Stage Crew Devoted Many Hours Behind Scenes Without Recognition

TeeJay's audiences saw many different productions which were made possible by a hard-working stage crew. The stage crew resolved itself into a nucleus of six permanent members and many assistants. Although they worked diligently on each assembly and production, they received little recognition and almost no compensation for the many hours they devoted behind the scenes.

Charity Was Mixed With Pleasure by French Club

The French Club, known as Le Cercle Francais to its members, had a wide range of activities this year with Miss Pike as sponsor. To raise money for Christmas Mother, the Club sold soft drinks at Junior Stunt Night. Members caroled at a local hospital. In the spring the group toured the National Gallery of Art in Washington to see the work of famous French artists.

French Students Found Interesting Group Jobs

The French National Honor Society, introduced in 1966 to Thomas Jefferson by Miss Nancy Pike, increased its membership this year. Students displaying interest in French culture and history were chosen from the French classes and were required to maintain a general high academic average. The Society co-sponsored with the French Club a writing contest; as a group service, they sponsored a tutoring service for students displaying difficulty in French.

Russian Club Promoted Interest in Varied Aspects of Russian Culture

Enlarging its program to meet the needs of a growing membership, the Russian Club posted an active schedule. In keeping with the Christmas spirit this year, they enacted an old Russian Christmas dinner in conjunction with John Marshall's Russian Club. The dinner enabled the students to get a firsthand view of the culture they study. A trip to Washington in March to visit the Russian Orthodox Church, the Russian Book Store, and the Russian Embassy was planned. Helping to promote interclub spirit, the Russian Club challenged the French Club to a volleyball game.

Spirited German Club Won Prize for Original Homecoming Float.

The German Club renewed its school spirit this year and posted an active schedule. Members worked energetically to build a float which won the homecoming float contest. Intermediate and Advanced Pupils Adopted Latina Vivit as Motto

For the first time in recent years, both intermediate and advanced Latin students were allowed to join the Latin Club; therefore, there were more participants in its activities. In October, Professor William O. Perrine of the University of Richmond lectured on the ancient resort town of Pompeii, which had been flooded by volcanic lava. During Latin Week, a Treasure Hunt and posters in the halls made students aware that "Latina Vivit!" Service projects featured during the year were Christmas pencil holders given to faculty members and a visit to a local home for the aged. Also, in May prospective members were guests to the annual Latin Club Picnic.

CLUB

A flavor of Old Spain was evidenced by the Club's Homecoming entry.

Spanish National Honor Society Was Formed

The Spanish Club began the year with a reception honoring our AFS student Mike Bermeo. To create a homey atmosphere for him, enchiladas were served, and records from Ecuador were played.

Club members celebrated a real Spanish Christmas with a Pinata Party. The pinata, made in the shape of a snowman and containing goodies, was broken with a real Mexican baseball bat.

As usual the Club sponsored Spanish Week during March. At this time Spanish Club members provided daily devotions for the school, and a banquet was held to promote interest in the Club.

This year marked the formation of the Spanish National Honor Society at TeeJay. In this way, the Club continued its search for ways to improve its organizations.

Science Club Reflected Interested Participation

Concentrating on broadening its members' understanding of science and its relationship to society, the Science Club used field trips and lectures as its prime educational media. It sponsored trips to laboratories at Reynolds Metals, Medical College of Virginia, and the Virginia Electric and Power Company and attended lectures at the Math-Science Center at John Marshall.

Having entered successful projects in the Virginia Junior Academy of Science competition each year, the club promoted several projects at this spring competition. The club ended the year with its annual car wash, spring picnic, and installation of officers.

Lab Assistants Cleaned Stockroom, Ran Errands

Chemistry Lab Assistants aided students and instructors by locking and unlocking drawers, handing out supplies, cleaning up, and keeping the stockroom in order. To further help teachers, the lab assistants retyped chemical lists and ran errands. These dependable students were always willing to help and took great pride in their work.

Responsibilities of Biology Lab Assistants included running errands, grading test papers, washing equipment, and cleaning the stock room. By helping to prepare solutions for experiments and obtaining plants for study, they greatly aided the students.

Another project adopted this year was serving refreshments to the spring track team. Spirit Week, sponsored by the Pep Club, promoted genuine school spirit by posters, slogans, and a contest.

Lettermen Sold Caps and Donated Bulletin Board

By selling Dale Wanderer a stocking cap, Allen Matthews adds to the bulletin board fund.

Membership in the Monogram Club totaled 50 boys, with lettermen and managers from all boys' sports being eligible.

Projects of the club were varied. For activities in the gym, such as basketball and wrestling, the bleachers were pulled out and replaced by Monogram Club members. By selling red and white stocking caps, the Monogram Club raised enough money to buy a bulletin board that was used in the back hall to post track records.

For the second year, monogram jackets were given to all the senior boys in the Monogram Club. They were paid for by the athletic sponsors of the club.

Tebahoes Raised Money in Sale of Night-Shirts

Tebahoes, composed of girls participating in varsity sports, had members inducted in the fall and spring. This year money raising projects for the club included a teacher-Tebahoe hockey game in the fall and a basketball game with the faculty in February. After Christmas, red night-shirts were sold. These night-shirts sold quickly and were quite popular. The club made almost $75.00 which they used to pay for girls' game officials, equipment, and transportation for out-of-town games. Officers for the 1968-1969 were elected at the annual spring picnic.

Medical Arts Club Expanded Its Membership and Outside Projects

Medical interest was encouraged at Tee Jay by the Medical Arts Club. To arouse and maintain interest in health service careers was the club's goal. Tours of medical facilities in Richmond and speakers who lectured on the advantages of a medical career such as pharmacy, physical therapy or nursing, stimulated club interest. The expanding field of nursing was the subject of one speaker. Another guest attracting much attention was a health consultant who outlined a program for health personnel in the Armed Forces. Different trips were made to buildings in Richmond such as the modern St. Mary's Hospital.

Jr. Red Cross Enjoyed Another Year of Service

While keeping in contact with the Richmond Chapter House, the Jr. Red Cross began another project-filled year. TeeJay students participated in volunteer nursing, overseas letters and gifts to servicemen, Christmas stockings for McGuire Veteran's Hospital, and toys for underprivileged children. Junior Red Cross members also attended a city-wide leadership conference to prepare for a busy year.

FTA Scholarship Given to Worthy Student

The Future Teachers of America filled their year with entertainment, education, and service. Teas were given honoring new club members and faculty members. To further their education, club members attended the annual FTA Convention and participated in City-Wide Visitation Day. FTA members helped with various school activities. At College Night members guided parents and students to the rooms of various colleges. To aid the counselors, FTA members called last year's graduates and found where they were attending college and whether they worked.

Ending the year with the usual custom, the FTA awarded a scholarship to an outstanding senior member who had participated loyally in the club's activities. This money was given to the student to be used as she desired.

The Library Staff Facilitated Efficient Operation

Woody Anders, Jeanne Cline, Darlene Downey, Barbara Selden, and Dollie Hartsook handle materials at check-out desk.

The Library Staff was composed of students interested in devoting time to library work. Students were assigned duties at the desk such as charging out, receiving, and slipping books, and answering students' questions. Members of the Staff were also responsible for shelving books, carrying messages, filing catalogue cards, and preparing new books for circulation. Time was devoted to keeping bulletin board displays up-to-date.

Besides providing help in the library, the Library Staff functioned as a club. A special speaker, Lee Barksdale, spoke at a Library Staff meeting on his experiences in Vietnam, illustrating his talk with slides.

Literary Club Attended Museum Performances

With President Julie Mahler and sponsor Mrs. Hancock, the new Literary Club became a very active organization by encouraging cultural pursuits, donating a paperback library for Sheltering Arms Hospital, and presenting The Age of the Renaissance to the Tee-Jay library at Christmas time. Regular attendance at the Virginia Museum productions exposed members to a wider variety of dramatic literature.

Club Extended Student Interest in Mathematics

The Math Club spent many hours of its first year organizing its rules. Mr. Huber was chosen as faculty sponsor. The purpose of the club was to stimulate interest in math. Among the programs planned were a trip to Langley Field and a brain-teaser contest. Two college students spoke to the club on higher mathematics in college at the University of Virginia.

Cadets Held Classes and Began a New Drill Team

The Cadet Corps consisted of four military training groups: MT 1, 2, 3, and 4. MT 1 included recuits; upper classmen composed MT 2, 3, and 4. The MT 1 group had classes in first aid, hygiene, small unit tactics, field sanitation, riflery, and marksmanship. MT 2, 3, and 4 focused on leadership but also studied small unit tactics. Members of these groups taught their own classes.

Participating in Sponsors' Day, marching in parades, ushering at College Night, and preparing for Federal Inspection, at which an honor rating was gained, occupied the Cadet Corps. The color guard and drill team performed at assemblies and P.T.A. meetings; the band, at football games and pep rallies.

This year marked the beginning of a second drill team, the White Berets, open to every cadet.

Harriers Finished Greatest Season in History of Thomas Jefferson

A frequent afternoon sight is this view of Scott Shires and Don Thrift jogging across the school lawn.

Paced by 1967 All Regional Team members, Don Thrift and Scott Shires, and 1966 All District returnee, Bobby Badenoch, the 1967 Jeff Cross Country team completed the greatest season in the school's history. As they opened the season with three smashing victories over John Marshall, Benedictine, and Collegiate, sweeping the first six places in each, the Jeff Harriers wasted no time in dispelling doubts about their record breaking intentions. During the ensuing season the Jeffs won 11 of their 13 dual meets. They finished 5th in a 32-team field at the William and Mary Invitational, 2nd in the Regional Championships, and 6th in the VHSL Championships. In the Virginia A.A.U. Junior Championships, the Jeff Cross Country Team climaxed the season with a stunning upset over the VHSL Champions, John Randolph Tucker High School.

Team Captain, Senior Don Thrift, and sophomore Scott Shires were selected by a vote of the area coaches to the ten-man All Regional Cross Country Team for their outstanding season's accomplishments.

Trackmen Showed an Extremely Strong Team

The Jeff Track Stars dominated the area track scene during the winter season, breaking 9 school indoor records and 1 school outdoor record, and ranked among the best this spring. Though weak in a few events, the Jeffs had a strong nucleus of returning lettermen and were a contender for District and Regional honors. School record holders returning for this year's team included: Bobby Badenoch—indoor 880, record indoor and outdoor mile relay teams; Cosby Cunningham—outdoor 440, indoor 500, mile relay; Emmett Richardson—indoor 440, mile relay; Craig Valentine—indoor high and low hurdles, outdoor low hurdles, record indoor 880 relay team; Ron Thrift—indoor mile, mile relay; Gary Uram—discus. Also returning were sprinters Russell Astly and Steve Aschman who, with half-miler John Satterfield, ran on the 880 relay team. John Kincannon in the jumps, Larry Maier in the pole vault, Scott Shires in the 2 mile, and Kit Utz in the 880, rounded out the top prospects of the best T.J. track team in years.

Surrounded by an attentive audience, Mr. Henry Jones, Freshman Class Sponsor, proceeds to explain a mathematical problem.

Freshmen Surmounted September Confusion

After a highly successful membership drive in January, the Freshman Class made plans for fund-raising projects. Under the leadership of John Leitch as President, Chip Tyler as Vice-President, Secretary Laurie Lindeman, and Treasurer Laura Hamlin, along with Mr. Jones's help as sponsor, the Class of 1971 held not only a sock hop but also a car wash. Naturally their goal was funds for the annual picnic.

Traditionally freshmen are dreadfully confused in September. To alleviate some of this disorder, Big Brothers (or Sisters) visited each homeroom, and Jay Galeski served as Class advisor during that grueling first term.

Sock Hop and Car Wash Earned Funds for Sophomores

In September Miss Landis entered her second year as sponsor for the Class of 1970. Because of her guidance and the efforts of Class Council members, the months between early fall and late spring were filled with plans for annual projects—chiefly, the Sophomore Class Dance on April 27 for which Mike Harris and the Imperials provided the music. Moreover, the Class raised funds by sponsoring both a sock hop and a car wash.

In November the Class of 1969 presented Garbage and Other Lovelies, and there never was a Stunt Night quite like it. Humor, music, and melodrama in the form of "Way, Way Off Broadway," the Soul Band and the folk-singing Jeffettes, besides satires on the Mickey Mouse Club and the perils of blind dating, comprised their completely original production. On May 18 the "Grandeurs" provided the music for the semi-formal Junior-Senior Dance, held in the gymnasium. These were two major happenings of the Junior Class, carried out under the guidance of the sponsor, Mrs. Whetstone.

Mrs. Galloway Became Fourth Sponsor of Class of '68

Miss Ramey, Mrs. Galloway, and Miss Morris enjoy an informal talk during the Senior Sock Hop.

June 1968 brought to an end the Seniors' challenging and rewarding high school years—and busy years they were! Notably because of the Class's numerous sponsors, activity was always at a fast pace. First came Mr. Chambers; then Mr. Altizer, Mr. Perry, and last but certainly not least, Mrs. Calloway.

A first for the Class was Ellen Rappolt's year-long visit to Australia as an AFS Student. Previously TeeJay had sent only summer representatives. On the other hand, Miguel Bermeo of Ecuador spent an exciting year as the school's first Latin-American student in four years.

On the lighter side, at the Senior-Junior Dance, where the theme was "Funky with Frosty," the Kings of Soul played for three "groovy" hours. Decorations featured enormous snowflakes while a huge Frosty the Snowman took the spotlight. All in all the 1967-1968 school year was an active one balanced by equal shares of scholastic achievement and honest enjoyment.

Emmett Richardson and Jean Rosenthal, Senior Class Treasurer and Secretary respectively, discuss and compare lists of active members of the Class of 1968.

While Larry Maier and foreign exchange student Miguel Bermeo watch and listen, Mrs. Baker quickly demonstrates a trigonometry equation.

Service Is Our Best Salesman! "SOUTH OF THE JAMES"

Now a student life policy a father can afford!
Insurance: $10,000
Premium: $30

College is costly enough without high insurance premiums . . . yet students should be insured. Life of Virginia now offers a way to give students ten thousand dollar coverage, for only thirty dollars a year, with no medical examination. Both full-time college students up to age 27 and high-school seniors who will be in college within six months are eligible. And the insured may convert to permanent insurance at any time the Student Life Plan is in force, without evidence of insurability. For information on Student Life Plan, call a Life of Virginia representative today.

ELECTRICITY: MUSCLE OF INDUSTRY

Behind the great industrial might of America stands a "giant workman" — electric energy. It would require the muscle energy of 70 men working 40 hours a week for one whole year to equal 10,000 kilowatt hours of electricity — less than the average annual consumption of two Vepco residential customers. Yes, electricity is the "muscle" behind our power and prosperity.

Acknowledgment

Many people worked with both the business and literary staffs to produce the 1968 MONTICELLO.

We wish to express our appreciation to all those who have helped us by serving as subjects for pictures. In a more specific way we express appreciation to the following:

Our principal, W. W. Brock, Jr., for his enthusiastic support.

To the faculty, for allowing our photographers to photograph activities.

To the students who were photographed individually and in groups.

To the ladies from the PTA who helped with the class pictures in the spring and again in the fall.

To the advertisers whose support is so essential to the success of the yearbook.

To Stephen Justa and Bernard Jones who have taken so many of the pictures.

To the Taylor representatives, Lester Peterson and Danny Defalco who have given us technical advice and assistance throughout the year.

To Miss Anne Sherwin and Mrs. Neda Tucker, literary and business advisers, for their guidance, patience and encouragement.

To Miss Alma Lowance for her willingness to assist wherever and whenever she was needed.
